Vodius is an alliance of professional web designers/developers, graphic designers, programmers and software/hardware specialists. We provide web sites services, CD and online presentations, branding, brochure design, 2D/3D animation and hardware/software troubleshooting.

Standing strong after 5 years in operation we have a great amount of practical experience servicing companies such as Coca-Cola, Precision Biochemicals, Bardel Entertainment. We guarantee that your web site will not be just professionally designed but also be usable and maintained with continuous support from us.

Vodius is different than your average design companies. We have a group of the best web specialists working together as a team to best meet the needs of our clients. Each artist focuses on the aspect he or she does the best. Our philosophy is simple: To deliver the highest quality websites, brochures, and presentations in the quickest time for the best price.

• Web Design Services

If you want to bring your business online you would need somebody who knows how to handle all stages of web design process. First they would need to provide you with appropriate design for your type of business just because Travel website should make people want those hot tropics and white sands, Entertainment website should present portfolio in the way it was meant to be, but Industrial website cannot contain funky elements such as Mickey Mouse or cartoonish look. That's why when we build website for you we research the market, we analyze your potential visitors, we target the look and feel of your website to the proper audience.

The second step in web developing is to build easy to use navigation system. Keep in mind that those funky drop down menus, roll over effects and layers of graphic might not work on some browsers and platforms, so they should have some kinda insurance elements. If there is drop down menu on the site, there should be link to that section somewhere else, because you might have very important information on that page you want your customers to see.

And another important aspect of web design is web traffic. Obviously you would need people to know about your website, you would need those people become your customers. We provide search engine submission, keywords analysis, web stats, and more marketing tools.

Custom website to fit your schedule and your budget guaranteed!

• Animation and Modeling services

Working very closely with 2D and 3D animators and animation studios, we now offer modeling and animation! Whenever you need a character design, storyboard or the whole nine yards, you can always count on the talent and professionalism of our artists.

Are you wondering where you might use 3D? Anywhere! 3D works for logo design, web design, promotional materials, and much, much more. Our 2D/3D department works very closely with our web and graphic designers to deliver the best results in your promotional campaign.
